'SIRENS' TO 'SUPERGIRL':
INSIDE HER EXTRAORDINARY RISE

ELLE

lifestyle

Copenhagen,
Denmark.

Cultural capitals

As part of a new series, ELLE's international editors guide us through the best of their home cities — first up, Copenhagen, Brussels and Vilnius; and inside Cathrine Raben Davidsen's artful sanctuary.

City Limits

NO-ONE KNOWS A CITY'S COOLEST PLACES TO EAT, DRINK AND SHOP LIKE THE PEOPLE WHO LIVE THERE. SO WE ASKED THE TEAMS FROM ELLE'S INTERNATIONAL EDITIONS TO SHARE THEIR FAVOURITE LOCAL PLACES

Copenhagen

DENMARK

FROM THE NYHAVN CANAL TO THE DISTRICTS OF NORREBRO AND VESTERBRO, THE CITY IS AWASH WITH THE FAMOUS HYGGE. THIS ART OF LIVING HAS MADE THE DANES THE HAPPIEST PEOPLE IN THE WORLD, AND THE MOST ECO-FRIENDLY, TOO, WITH GREEN SPACES AND ECO-NEIGHBOURHOODS

TRENDY EATERY

Esmée

Tucked away off Kongens Nytorv, the city's largest square, this bustling brasserie could be mistaken for a modern orangery with its decor of marble walls and lush greenery. Chef Andreas Bagh adds a fresh Nordic touch to classic French cuisine. Try the grilled Danish turbot served with mussel sauce and seasonal greens. For dessert, the tarte aux pommes cocktail will satisfy your sweet tooth.

CHARMING HOTEL

Coco Hotel

From the Copenhagen Food Collective, this solar-powered boutique hotel is both design- and sustainability-forward. Housed in a classic building, 89 light-filled rooms exude Nordic charm. True to its foodie roots, the all-day Coco Café and wine bar, complete with an internal courtyard, serves Scandinavian breakfasts, small plates and evening drinks in a lively, bistro-like setting.

LOCAL FOOD HOTSPOT

Restaurant Møntergade

At the intersection of Gammel Mønt and Møntergade, where fine institutions have written gastronomic history for decades, this restaurant serves delightful Danish cuisine with a French touch. Fresh herring, marinated, spiced or served with chutney and capers, dominates the lunch menu; for dinner, go for the braised pork cheek with fried foie gras. End the night at their bar Apéro just across the street in the legendary red house.

BUZZING BAR

TATA

Just like its namesake, the red velvet curtain at the Danish Royal Theatre, TATA is not short of decadent, vintage charm. Here, it's the bartenders who are putting on a show, serving classic and house cocktails named after operas (such as Beethoven's Fidelio). On Fridays and Saturdays, step onto the greenery-covered rooftop terrace and choose from a menu of aperitivos.

SECRET ESCAPE

Rudolph Tegner's Museum & Statue Park

Designed by Danish sculptor Rudolph Tegner in the late 1930s to house his own original works, this museum is a concrete treasure trove of modernist art. The experience continues in the Statue Park, where 14 of his sculptures, including the 1916 bronze King Oedipus and Antigone, proudly stand against a backdrop of heather and sea views.
